

FUUCA MUSIC UPDATE TO THE ALL-CHURCH COUNCIL 1/10/10

Brent Baldwin, Director of Music

FUUCA's Music Program is kicking into full-gear for 2010. While budget cuts will affect some programming (ie there will probably be few if any orchestral collaborations for 2010), we are committed to delivering the highest quality musical offerings we can.

The FUUCA Adult Choir begins rehearsals on Wednesday, January 13 at 7:30pm. The FUUCA Children's Choirs rehearse on Sundays between services, and begin on 1/17.

Below is an overview of the service music calendar as it sits today. A number of TBA spots are still being worked out with a number of exciting potential musical guests.

- 1/3 Vocal quartet
- 1/10 FUUCA Piano Trio
- 1/17 Special guests: Austin Chamber Music Center (FUUCA's Artists-in-Residence)

We are in the process of considering further ARE courses to offer. We share intelligence and systems knowledge with other communities that have teaching goals. The course in UU History is co sponsored with the Denominational Affairs Comm. Built on the foundations of Luther Elmore and Lara Douglass, the most successful enrollment had to be capped. The history covers the 19th c. early, mid and 20th centuries. We co sponsor with the Nom. Comm., the Harvest the Power presentations for continued leadership education.

We are continuing to develop new courses in leadership and employ the rich information in the UUA trove. Harvest the Power a detailed and proved endeavor, program, curriculum, course developed by the UUA will be the basis for the next teaching endeavor. The twelve workshops for new and experienced leaders will take us on a journey of faith and education. First Class Jan. 20 then every 3d Wed. at 7pm following Meet and Eat. This builds on the successful classes led by Michael Kearsey in the fall. Lynn Adams is most experienced in Harvest the Power and will address the All Council.
